USA3000 Airlines Fans – Let your voice be heard – email or sign-up at St. Petersburg-Clearwater International Airport (PIE) to request USA3000 make a speedy return to Tampa Bay!

St. Petersburg-Clearwater International Airport (PIE) is inviting the public to share their enthusiasm for USA3000 Airlines by signing a letter of support to encourage USA3000 to bring service back to PIE in the near future. USA3000 Airlines is ending service at PIE effective August 18th. Airport Director Noah Lagos explains, "Our passengers have been calling and writing us to see if there is anything that can be done to keep USA3000 here. Passengers love their high quality service and the ease and convenience of our Airport. In these hard times for the airline industry, USA3000 made a tough business decision to leave our market due to the ever spiraling cost of fuel prices and the overall state of the economy. We just want them to know that when economic conditions are better and they give consideration to returning to PIE, that there are many loyal customers who wanted to tell them they are their #1 fans."

This public outreach program is designed to provide an easy way to make a difference. Passengers can sign a letter of support at the airport terminal anytime between August 4th and August 18th (USA3000's last scheduled flight) or emailing USA3000fans@fly2pie.com. Tables will be set up next to USA3000's ticketing counter for departing passengers and in Baggage Claim for arriving passengers.
