St. Petersburg–Clearwater International Airport (PIE) welcomes Frontier Airlines new service to Milwaukee and Omaha

St. Petersburg-Clearwater International Airport (PIE) is pleased to welcome Frontier Airlines with non-stop service to Milwaukee, Wisconsin and Omaha, Nebraska. Milwaukee service will be year round and begin on November 18. Omaha is seasonal service, beginning January 16th and ending April 17th.

“The move to St. Petersburg/Clearwater support’s Frontier’s effort to provide our guests with convenient and affordable air travel. With easy access to gorgeous beaches, our guests can start their vacation as soon as they arrive. In addition, guests flying out of St. Petersburg/Clearwater airport will now enjoy nonstop access to two Frontier destinations with connections to our more than 70 destinations across the US, Mexico, and Costa Rica” said Daniel Shurz, Vice President of Planning and Strategy.

Airport Director Noah Lagos states, “PIE’s low airline rates and charges coupled with the newly renovated airport terminal were the key to landing Frontier. They loved the customer friendly atmosphere and the new beach colored interior design of the terminal featuring signature artwork. One of their executives commented “that it was more like checking into a hotel than at an airport”. The addition of new loading bridges was certainly important to Frontier. We are thrilled to add Milwaukee and Omaha to our list of non-stop cities, as well one-stop service to exciting new domestic and international destinations.”
