CLEARWATER, Fla. Sept. 21, 2016 — Allegiant (NASDAQ: ALGT) today announces it will move its operations from Akron-Canton Airport (CAK) to Cleveland Hopkins International Airport (CLE) beginning Feb. 15, 2017. The company, operates a route between St. Pete-Clearwater International Airport (PIE) and CAK. In addition to the move, Allegiant will increase its frequency between St. Pete-Clearwater International Airport (PIE) and northeast Ohio from twice weekly to four times weekly, bringing more than 73,000 more annual visitors a year to the Tampa Bay area. In celebration of the company’s growth in northeast Ohio, Allegiant is offering one-way fares on the route for as low as $39.*

“We’re very excited to announce this major growth in northeast Ohio, a region that has demanded more low-cost, nonstop service to the wonderful vacation destinations we serve,” said Jude Bricker, Allegiant chief operating officer. “This move to Cleveland will allow Allegiant to have a stronger presence in northeast Ohio and allow us to offer our low fares and convenient travel to even more travelers.”

Allegiant will notify passengers with existing reservations after Feb. 15, 2017. Those passengers will have the option to change their reservation to CLE or receive a full refund.

Allegiant offers a unique option to Tampa Bay area and northeast Ohio travelers. Focusing on low-cost leisure travel, the company provides customers with low base fares averaging nearly half of the cost of the average domestic round-trip fare. Allegiant’s innovative business model has allowed the company to grow from one aircraft and one route just over a decade ago, to providing convenient, affordable service in over 100 communities nationwide.
